What would a gentleman and scholar do?

Instructions: Read each of the following scenarios. On the lines provided, write how a gentleman and a scholar would respond to the scenario. Your answers should be as complete as possible.

1. At the end of lunch, Bartholomew is the last of his four friends sitting at the table, when he gets up to leave he notices that his friends left trash on the floor under that table. What should Bart do?

2. Matthias is walking down the hall and he notices three guys from his team standing around a boy named Solomon. Solomon is not very popular and is often made fun of. When Matthias gets closer he hears that the guys from his team are having a great time making fun of Solomon and laughing at him. Matthias notices that Solomon looks upset. What should Matthias do?

3. Isaiah is completely bored in his math class, his friend Mark is sitting next him and he has homework due for history class next period. What should Isaiah do?

4. At lunch Jeremiah's best friend comes up to him and asks him what was on the history test he took first period. What should Jeremiah do?

5. Elijah has a paper due on Wednesday that he has not started working on yet. He doesn't know much about the topic. His friends tell him to just go on Google and find some information, copy and paste it, change a few words, and turn it in. They tell him that his teacher will never notice. What should Elijah do?
